

Andy Molina

Occupation: Businessman/Planning Commissioner

The City of Huntington Park has been my family's home for the past 26 years. I have seen many challenges, but more importantly the endless possibilities for our city because of its vibrant economy and the strength of our people.

My history of community service is solid. I have served as President of the Latin Business Association, School Board President of St. Matthias Elementary School, and Finance Chairman for several non-profit organizations, and appointed as a Planning Commissioner for the City of Huntington Park in 2003.

I understand the need for our families to live in a safe environment. I understand the need to have an empowered community. I understand the needs of the business community. I understand the effort required to produce the needed changes in the community.

As your Councilmember, I will work for a safer city by increasing police personnel. I will work to improve our sidewalks and to renovate our parks. I will work for a proactive economic growth agenda.

It is with a clear sense of community spirit, strong family values, deep religious and moral convictions that I humbly ask you for your vote.

Thank You
Andy Molina
